

Welcome Day for New KIT Staff Members

In English Language

The event addresses newly employed staff members and provides them an overview of the manifold KIT activities, its research topics, facilities and wide-range portfolio. The Welcome Day gives you the opportunity to get in contact with new colleagues and start networking. On a "marketplace" various Service Units present their fields of work, work processes and their range of services offered. You, as a participant in this event, take advantage of the possibility to enter into discussion with contact persons and receive answers to your individual questions and concerns directly on the spot. The Welcome Day concludes with a guided visit of Campus North providing participants the chance to jointly get impressions of selected research facilities and projects.

All new staff members will be personally invited for participation. For KIT staff members, attendance fees are centrally covered by KIT.
